

Start Bldg Fund Waveland Church

Dr. Ollo Mollere, a Bay St. Louis dentist and lifelong resident of Waveland, has been named general chairman of the St. Clare's Parish New Church Building Fund Campaign in Waveland, it was announced Monday night by Rev. John T. O'Brien, pastor.

Dr. Mollere will head an organization of men of the parish who will be enlisted as workers in the campaign to renovate the entire rear section of the church, which was constructed in 1890. A brick facade and vestibule sections of the structure were built in 1957.

Two weeks ago the present church building was vacated, and until construction is completed Masses will be said in the parish hall.

Father O'Brien said that plans had been completed for the project but contracts would not be let until immediately after the conclusion of the campaign. "I do not feel it wise to make commitments until we can get an estimate of how much money we will have available for the church," Father O'Brien said. "The amount of money subscribed to the campaign will determine just what kind of a church we can build."

First meeting in the campaign was held Monday night (September 17) in the conference room at the rectory and was attended by 15 men.

BEGINNING OF SCHOOL EMPHASIZES NEED FOR EXTRA CAREFUL DRIVING

The beginning of a new school year in Mississippi finds law enforcement officers, editors, parents and educators joining in a special appeal to everyone who drives. Be careful, especially in school zones. Remember, youngsters do not always use good judgement when venturing into traffic, nor do grownups for that matter. Give all child pedestrians plenty of leeway and every possible break. Ditto for bike and motor scooter riders. The key to saving young lives and preventing injuries is for every driver to accept personal responsibility and exercise special caution.

An estimated 580,000 children are enrolled this year in Mississippi's elementary and secondary schools, and the opening of school means there will be more children walking and playing along streets and roads. Drivers may get tired occasionally in reading and hearing safety messages, but as long as accidents continue to happen, motorists have a duty to cooperate to the maximum extent in efforts to make our streets and roads safer - especially for children.

HOUSING LOAN POLICIES OF FARMERS HOME ADMINIS- TRATION EXPANDED

The Housing Act of 1961 broadens the eligibility requirements for Rural Housing loans, stated Mr. Max H. Stone, County Supervisor of Farmers Home Administration in Hancock County. To be eligible for housing loans in the past, Mr. Stone explained, it had been necessary that applicants be engaged in farming, and now families who are living in small rural communities of less than 2500 population or on non-farm tracts in rural areas, are eligible for Rural Housing assistance just as farmers are, provided they otherwise meet the eligibility requirements.

Mr. Stone stated such housing funds are available to help eligible families to modernize homes, add bathrooms, modernize kitchens, add domestic water supplies, as well as enlarge and remodel farm homes and service buildings, together with related facilities needed in their farming operations.

The County Supervisor explained the interest rate on housing loans remains at 4 percent and that the loans can be scheduled for a repayment period of up to 33 years. He stated that after making applications for such loans, it is necessary for the applicant to provide building plans, specifications and cost estimates. The local County Committee determines the eligibility of each applicant and certifies as to the amount of the loan. Mr. Stone further explained that all of these loans are secured to the extent necessary to protect the Government's interest, and in some instances improvement loans may be made in amounts less than $1500 with a repayment period not to exceed 10 years and such loans being secured by a promissory note.

Other housing loans, of course, are secured in each case by a deed of trust on land and or chattels of the applicant.

Inquiries or applications for Rural Housing assistance will be handled in the Hancock County Office, located at Agricultural Building, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

CORRECT RETURN ADDRESS ON MAIL AID TO SERVICE

"An extremely valuable part of our service to the public depends on the sender's furnishing a complete and correct return address on all mail matter," said Postmaster Andy Becker today.

The following rules must be followed if your return address is to provide the maximum service benefits to you:

1. The proper location is in the upper left corner on envelopes, cards, labels, tags, and wrappers. On second, third and fourth class mail of no obvious value, the sender must place "Return Requested" below the address or it will not be returned if undeliverable.

2. The return address should be complete and legible, including the name of the sender, the street address or box number, the city and the state. In the case of multiple dwelling units, the apartment or the unit number must be shown. In the case of hotels and office buildings, the room number should be indicated.

If you habitually follow the simple rules, that important letter or that valuable parcel will be returned to you endorsed to show why it is undeliverable.

You will then know with certainty when your mailings have not reached the addressee and you will be able to take whatever corrective action you think essential. In the overwhelming majority of cases, when your letter or parcel is undeliverable, your friend, business associate, or other correspondent will appreciate your providing the return address in the upper left corner where it is readily accessible. The consistent use of a return address on your mail is the best method of insuring that your correspondents are aware of your correct, current address.

Postmaster Becker cautions mailers not to place the return address in any position other than in the upper left corner of the mailing piece or label. Postal employees are required to process large volumes of mail rapidly; so it is quite possible for them to overlook return addresses placed in unauthorized positions.

Mailers may assure prompt, accurate return of undeliverable mail by compliance with these instructions.

Kinda hard to predict each week what the fish are going to do. We do know that speckles are being caught out in the marshes. As we said last week they are not to big but 1 to 1 1/2 pound are good on anybody's tackle. Of course we have those guys who say if they are not a yard long they don't want them. Don't see them throwing them back! Will have to admit the weather was rather windy, which accounted for the small catches over the weekend. Fresh water fishing is on the shady side due to high tides, but catches of 18 to 20 green trout were reported. Look out for good catches of fresh water fish when the tide becomes low in the afternoons.

As stated last week specks and red fish are still being caught up Jordan River. The deep lakes produce the most fish. Ask someone who knows where they are.

Bill Witter an old fishing enthusiast, now of New Orleans, tried his luck up Jordan River Monday afternoon. He was using shrimp. Didn't hear what he caught. Bill is also a fly fisherman.

Baby Bonus: The French government gives each proud papa of a new baby three days' vacation and an $80 bonus. Don't know what papa will do in France but you can bet if he lived on the Coast he would spend part of the money for fishing tackle and be out fishing for three days.

Now that the hunting season is here once more, the Orleans Parish Medical Society offers these words of caution to the hunter:

1. Don't bag another hunter. Before pulling the trigger, know what you're aiming at.
2. Never climb a tree or cross over a fence with a loaded gun. It could fall and discharge.
3. Keep guns away from children. Never have a gun unattended without unloading it.
4. Carry a gun so that you can always control the direction of the muzzle.
5. Don't mix alcohol with hunting. Have a nip at camp after the hunting day.
6. Never point a gun at anything unless you intend to shoot it.

It's the same old story, but by adhering to the above a lot of lives can be saved. Be safe yourself and watch the other fellow. An unloaded gun usually does the killing.

The dove season is now open but we have had no reports of any doves being killed. According to those who have been out, few doves have been seen. The ones who are ardent dove hunters and usually get their share say they can only hope for some better shooting during the second period.

PLAN MEMORIAL FUND TO INCREASE STATE 4-H ENDOWMENT

Jackson, Miss. — A statewide movement to increase the endowment of the 4-H Foundation of Mississippi, Inc. in honor of the late "Les M. Taylor" who was Foundation chairman for several years, has been started by business men and others interested in 4-H work.

"As a memorial to our beloved leader, many of us will want to contribute to the 4-H Foundation through a Les M. Taylor Memorial Fund," said Ray Tillman of Jackson vice chairman of the Foundation.

Mr. Taylor and others set $100,000 as the minimum goal of the Foundation's endowment, and about three-fourths of this has been raised. This endowment is to provide perpetual support of statewide 4-H programs, as only the interest from the funds invested can be spent, Mr. Tillman explained. A Board of Trustees administers the Foundation.

The Foundation was chartered in 1950. Its projects have included helping to establish the four 4-H of the dove season.

Among those who usually do a lot of dove shooting are Joe Kern, Herbert Wise, Tut Monti, August Vassalli, August Rautek, Cyril Glover, Jack Ladner, Mitch Mitchell, Alden Mauffray, Bob Mitchell, Mr. Jos di Benedetto, Bobby and Pete Fayard, Albert Hitt, Bill Wells, Bill Witter, etc.

When speaking of dove hunters we can't help think of the old timers who have gone to the happy hunting grounds and who were the best at their time when there was no limit on doves; Former Sheriff Joseph Bontemps, Claud Monti, another sheriff; Jos. Jones, another sheriff; Bob Genin, known as the best in 9 counties; Judge Fayard, Pete Caruso, B. D. Hogue and Brother Peter. There were plenty of doves in those days. One hunter said: There were so many doves in those days, they had to back up to take off.

Where are they now?

We remember Bro. Peter with the gold trigger, gold enlaved shot, gun given him by governor Leche of La. Yours truly had the pleasure of hunting with this gun one day. Brothers from St. Stanislaus were ardent dove hunters and many doves were served to friends of the College at special dove suppers. Those were the happy days. Lucky to get enough doves now for the family.

Dr. Emile Bertucci, Johnny Bacon and party enjoyed a dove hunt last week.

A letter this week from Dr. Bertucci read as follows: "I read the Sept. 6th issue of the Eagle and did not see the column 'Kantcha-Ketchum' anywhere in the paper. Naturally, this has me concerned and I have been worrying if you are out fishing all the time so that you don't have time to write the column or either have been ill." No Doc you're wrong both ways. Some time the fish are not biting, hunting is bad, haven't sufficient news and some times just too lazy. Will try not to let it happen again. Thanks for the letter.

Recently heard of Father Curran of Alexander, La., Father Curran is the only man we know of who was a Cardinal before he became a Priest. Father was a pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals before becoming a Catholic Priest.

A number of local residents will remember Peter Garcia, son of Mrs. Stella Garcia, who joined the U. S. Marines a few years back, and who has recently been stationed at Camp Hansen on Okla. nawa. Peter is home on a ten day leave and expects to catch up on his fishing. Pete's other hobby is archery. Welcome home Pete.

The winners of the Tipton 228 Tournament, held at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club on Labor Day weekend were Nettie Riggan and Ed Alker, who were tied and won the tournament. The tournament lasted 3 days and about 150 players participated. Congrats to these two nice people.

Woody Waggoner lugged home a champagne bucket from Alexander as medalist, (66). Mildred wants to know where is the champagne?

Pass Christian Isles course and Pro shop are getting better day by day. The fairways and greens are excellent thanks to greens keeper Cal Smith and manager Crane Fitz Wilson, Col. Henry Anderson and the Tournament Committee did a swell job in handling the tournament held recently at P. C. I. Other affairs are planned for later at the Club. Better join the crowd. You'll have a wonderful time.

Joe Allen and his companion, Chipper Sprogles and Bill Powell reported catching 65 sharks and 2 stingrays weighing 100 and 65 pounds each on a fishing trip last week out of Gulfport.

Their catch also included over 60 catfish.

Perre Quintini has really been getting his share of green trout and perch — never misses a chance to go out — just loves to fish.

Earlier this year, in connection with National 4-H Club Week, Mr. Taylor declared, "The people of business and industry have a great stake in the youth of our nation for we must look to them for the future leadership of our great republic."

Our responsibility as adults is to see that our young people are given the right type of leadership to inspire them to meet the great problems facing them in a changing world. OLE MISS ADVERTISING REFLECT HISTORICAL FACTS

Listen to the evidence that the Ole Miss vs. Memphis State football game over the Ole Miss Football Network at 8 p. m. on Saturday, September 22, 1962. Among the announcements you will hear are the following:

1. Among the mass of evidence that the University of Mississippi is an institution of quality, integrity, and progress are the facts that Ole Miss has been awarded a large number of National Defense Education Act Fellowships; that the Atomic Energy Commission has given Ole Miss a contract for extensive nuclear research; that Ole Miss has been selected repeatedly to conduct special science and language institutes; that a multimillion-dollar science center is being constructed—all to maintain and enhance the progress and quality of a real university in the Mid-South area.
2. One hundred fourteen years ago a few men—some bearded, some beardless—were converging by horse and carriage along wooded roads to realize a dream which had been conceived years earlier and had been nurtured and sustained so that it might be brought to birth. That idea and their action were the dedication and inauguration of the University of Mississippi in 1848. They made history—history of which they are and must forever be a part, like all who have come after them.
3. The graduates and former students of the University of Mississippi, together with their families, total an estimated 240,000. So it is that the story of Ole Miss is a story of people, not a story of bricks and mortar—not even a story of hills and trees, which last a little longer and change a little less rapidly. It is a story of thousands of people, men and women, most of them pausing long enough to make and even consecrate their own little part of this history, and others, the few, staying and aging, and some of them dying at last after having built their own best and greatest years into this edifice which stands now as a monument—a living monument—OLE MISS.
4. The South stands to gain more than any other region from the technological revolution now sweeping American industry. It possesses the natural resources to make it one of the richest areas on earth, and it is less burdened than other regions by inefficient plants and obsolescent equipment. Ole Miss, in the heart of the Mid-South, is strategically located and is growing in importance as a factor in aiding this industrial development.
5. Great names are associated with the history of the University of Mississippi—statesmen, artists, lawyers.

The story of Ole Miss is a story of a quiet pride, a nobility of accomplishment. Most of the time it is a story of success. The story of Ole Miss is a story of a quiet pride, a nobility of accomplishment. Most of the time it is a story of success. The story of Ole Miss is a story of a quiet pride, a nobility of accomplishment. Most of the time it is a story of success.

6. The goals of the University of Mississippi are predicated on the substance of all great universities throughout history and in our time; the wise and dedicated teacher, the able and eager student, imaginative and stimulating programs, the abundance of facilities, the vital interrelationships between the University and its widespread community, and the atmosphere wherein creativity flourishes.

7. Greater change has occurred in our lifetime than in nearly all the previous generations of man put together, and the pace of change is quickening. Ole Miss has been selected as the location of the seismograph station in this area; the Atomic Energy Commission has already provided a dynamometer or "atom smasher" to help with nuclear energy research and teaching at the University of Mississippi; an electron microscope and electronic computer are also a part of the scientific teaching and research equipment at Ole Miss.

8. Do you remember hearing certain people described by such statements as "a man of his word," "a man of honor," or "true blue"? Young men, and young women too, are molding their reputation and their character by honoring their agreements. When an applicant for a job is investigated, one attribute is always determined: Is he truthful? Does he honor his word and his agreements? Is he a man of his word—a man of honor?

The Law of Contracts and the subject of Legal Ethics are properly stressed in the curriculum of the School of Law of the University of Mississippi. Fully accredited, this Law School is the fourth oldest state law school in America.

9. The University of Mississippi has a past that is worthy of record and a present that is worthy of regard. It is a dynamic, thriving institution and a continuing force, representing an investment of more than money—an investment of life and mind and spirit, of those things which continue to pay dividends of a size exactly commensurate with the desire of people to collect them.

Tough new '63 Chevrolet Trucks are here!

...THE ONES THAT WHIPPED THE BAJA RUN...TOUGHEST UNDER THE SUN...
TO SHOW THE WORTH OF NEW ENGINES, FRAMES AND SUSPENSIONS!

Round trip from Detroit to the end of the Baja Peninsula is over 8,000 miles.

Sometimes the caravan crept along for hours in low gear. It took 17 days to go 1,066 miles! This is the road near Loreto.

Millions of years ago nature fashioned a proving ground for trucks that man can never duplicate. Today it is known as the Baja (bah' hah) California Peninsula, Mexico.

These pictures give you only a bare idea of the place. The road is fine for 140 miles below the U.S. border. Then the beating begins. Rocks and hard-baked ruts bang, jab and jerk the trucks from stem to stern. Loose sand makes them struggle and strain. Dust chokes them. Heat roasts them. Rivers drench them.

The Baja Run took this Chevrolet truck caravan 17 days to go the 1,066 miles.

All the trucks performed magnificently. Not one was forced to drop out because of mechanical difficulty.

Trucks that can take this kind of beating can take on your toughest truck jobs. Come in now and see tough quality-built '63 Chevrolet trucks with all their new improvements.

Do you remember the first time you listened to a sea shell? And when you watched a sunflower turn toward the sun? And when you tried to guess where the pot of gold was at the end of the rainbow? Life is full of sweet mysteries for the young. Do you remember?

In fact, life reveals even more sweet mysteries as we grow older. When we think of these things, the mysteries of life, of God's care of us, of the wonders of the universe—you know, that's a way of praying! Yes, just thinking about God.

Fortunately, too, we have the Church—your church—a place to contemplate such things, to pray, to ask questions, and give thanks to Almighty God. Go to the church of your choice this Sunday. There you will find some of the answers . . . to some of these wondrous mysteries.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

STATE CIVIL PROGRAM GIVE BOOST

A stepped-up state program for Mississippians dictated here Saturday by the U. S. Senate restoration of $185,000,000 to the budget, approved in 1963.

The Senate finance committee voted to restore the money to the OCD budget after it had previously been pared down by the house.

This action by the Senate is a floor action hailed by Civil Rights leaders throughout the state, according to Mississippi Democrat Robert Crook.

"I am delighted to learn of this favorable action by the United States Senate in restoring the appropriation by the House of Representatives," Crook said.

"This Senate action will increase federal defense funding and will allow for a stepped-up state defense program," Crook continued. "This is very pleasing news."

The issue whether to support the President's program is squarely faced on a floor amendment to cut the appropriation by an amount more nearly commensurate with the House appropriation. The Senate defeated this amendment after hearing strong arguments in support of the program from leading Senators.

Humphrey quoted from the President's letter of August 20, 1962, accomplishments of the program in making use of shelter space for a million Americans at a cost of $3.50 per person and pointed out that the Senate action should assure the many dedicated people who are working hard to create a local capacity to survive a nuclear attack that they can and must count on the federal government to do its part in this joint undertaking.

Secretary Pittman in commenting on the Senate action said that it comes at a time when many municipal and county governments and private owners of buildings with potential shelter space need to know that the federal government will not falter in carrying through the current phase of the program. The Senate has clearly expressed its intention that the federal government do its part in this essential effort.

WILL WIND UP
HEARING ON PLANT

JACKSON, Miss. — The Mississippi Public Service Commission has taken steps to wind up the lengthy hearings over a proposed $10 million steam generating plant at Keesee.

Also-operative wants to build the plant and the project is opposed by two private power firms. Tuesday, PSC chairman Norman A. Johnson Jr. set continuous hearings on the matter beginning Sept. 20, with a one-day break Sept. 24.

OPPOSE PLAN

South Mississippi Electric Power Association wants commission authority to build the plant and Mississippi Power Co. of Gulfport and Mississippi Power & Light Co. of Jackson oppose the proposal on the grounds the proposed plant will duplicate their facilities needlessly.

Both sides were notified to have all witnesses continuously on hand for the extended hearings.

Johnson admonished both sides to speed up testimony by eliminating repetitious evidence.

The case has been underway for 30 days over a period of more than a year, with one or two sessions monthly.

Johnson said he expected direct testimony by witnesses for the two private firms to be concluded the first two days of the hearings this month, with cross examinations to follow.

He said unless proceedings were

HI-STEPPERS, BAND
TAKE PART IN PAGEANT PARADE

Hinds Junior College were much in evidence at the Miss America Pageant Parade in Atlantic City on the night of September 4.

Ambassadors of goodwill are 108 members of the high-steppers and Eagle Band, the first southern dance and drill troupe ever asked to participate in the national extravaganza.

Following the parade the group visited New York City for another series of performances, tours of the city, and a chance to spread southern charm. The band arrived back in Raymond Friday night.

The Hi-steppers were chaperoned by several members of the school faculty. Mrs. Alon Bee, Hi-Stepper director, was the official chaperone for Charlotte Ann Carroll, the Mississippi candidate in the national contest. The Eagle Band was directed by Jim Morris in the temporary absence of regular bandmaster Al Rowan.

MAIL OR PARCELS
MUST BE INSURED
FOR DAMAGES

"There is a general misunderstanding among the mailing public that indemnity will be paid by the Post Office Department on all lost or damaged mail," says Postmaster Andy Becker. According to the postmaster, patrons are often disturbed when they present a damaged parcel to the post office and find that no indemnity will be paid unless the parcel is insured, registered, or collect-on-delivery (C. O. D.).

"Although every effort is made to protect all mail while it is in the custody of the postal service," the postmaster said, "unavoidable circumstances occasionally occur which result in mail being lost or damaged. The only way mailers may reduce the possibility of financial loss on valuable items is to avail themselves of those services which pay indemnity such as registered, insured, and collect-on-delivery."

The fact that indemnity is not paid on ordinary mail, however, does not mean that the post office has no interest in situations where ordinary mail is lost or damaged or otherwise improperly handled. Postmaster Becker wants it to be known that reports by the public on loss, rifling, delay, or damage to ordinary mail are of the greatest value in finding and correcting faults in the postal service.

Complaints concerning the postal service may be made in writing to the postmaster or they may be made orally by calling HO-7-6393. If the complaint concerns the mis-handling of mail, the envelope or wrapper should be submitted.

CLERMONT HD
CLUB MEETS

Clermont Harbor Home Demonstration Club resumed its meetings following adjournment for the summer season with a meeting last Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Russell Kintzley.

The roll call was answered with "my favorite housekeeping technique" and the thought of the month was given as "It is not how long we live, but how."

Mrs. R. Rheams was re-elected president for the coming year. Other officers re-elected to office were Mrs. Ola Moran, vice president, and Mrs. Kintzley, treasurer. Mrs. C. Goodloe was elected secretary to succeed Mrs. A. Dasipit who resigned because of illness.

Joe Dent, of the soil conservation service presented a program on radiological monitoring, which is a part of civil defense.

He also distributed pamphlets telling what to know and what to do in a nuclear attack.

Mrs. Moran and Mrs. Charles Burdoff presented the educational topic, information on nutrition. Mrs. Moran discussed the recent council meeting at the home of Mrs. E. C. Eccles. She said one of the projects adopted at the meeting was a recipe book, which would be compiled from favorite recipes of members.

The book, she said, would be offered for sale to raise funds for the club.

Each member was asked to bring a dish or cake with the recipe at a get-together meeting of the clubs which is scheduled for 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. September 26 at the Agriculture center. Projects for the coming year will also be discussed. There were 13 members attending.

SOIL
NEWS

According to the Mississippi livestock reporting service, there were 652,300 head of livestock slaughtered during the first seven months of this year.

This represents 33,900 head more than was slaughtered for all of 1961. The livestock represented here is cattle, hogs, and sheep.

It takes a lot of feed to feed cattle for the market, whether you raise it on the farm, or buy it from the feed mill.

Full time is upon us, and we who own and raise livestock need to be preparing for our winter feed needs.

All available hay should be saved, corn to be gathered; winter pastures to be planted, and various other jobs need to be taken care of. Have you given your farm problems any serious thought lately?

The Soil Conservation District likes to assist you in your soil planning needs on the farm. There is a plan available for every farm. You can get your plan started by calling on your Soil Conservation Technician. A good look at your available resources, will help you make the right decisions and at the right time. This may mean the difference in success and failure, when it comes to your farming needs.

Some of our Hancock County farmers are getting ready to plant their winter pastures, such as oats, crimson clover and the like. For early grazing, these crops should be planted early and fertilized well. A good growing crop, will make you feel better, make the livestock do better, and at the market put more green in your pocket.

TIME AGAIN FOR RENEWAL OF MANY DRIVER LICENSES

Drivers license renewal time is approaching again. This is the first call for renewals from Commissioner of Public Safety T. B. Birdsong and Director of Drivers Licensing A. M. Smith.

Smith said there are approximately 125,000 license that must be renewed before the 30th of this month. Smith stated, "We would like to encourage early renewal of licenses during this period. Since there is such a large segment of our licenses that will expire shortly lots of renewals now will prevent a delay at the end of the renewal period. Those drivers that choose to renew now will not lose any time on their expiration date. In other words, if the license originally expired Sept. 30, and it is renewed now the expiration date on the new license will be Sept. 30. In addition, the new license will be back in the drivers hands much sooner than if he waits until the 28th or 29th of this month."

"During the recent intensive drivers license checks over the state there were found to be large numbers of drivers that did not have a valid license. This is a reminder to check your license now and be sure it is valid. If not it can be renewed for one year for $2.50 and for two for $5.00. If the license is renewed other than at High Patrol Headquarters there will be added a 25 cent renewal agents fee."

FORESTRY
NOTES

The Mississippi Forestry Commission is growing 15 different species of tree seedlings for distribution to Mississippi landowners. The species that will be available for this planting season are slash, loblolly, longleaf, and shortleaf pines; baldcypress, cottonwood, green ash, yellow poplar, black locust, sycamore, sweet gum, red cedar, cherrybark oak, nuttall oak and tupelo gum.

A landowner desiring seedlings for reforestation purposes should place his order with his area forester or other agricultural agency. The area forester and many agricultural agencies have on hand seedling application forms for use by landowners.

Each landowner, or landowner-ship, may receive 1,000 seedlings of any species free by paying a delivery charge of 35¢, or he may receive 500 seedlings of any species other than pine by paying a delivery charge of 20¢. He may receive 500 each of two different species other than pine by paying a delivery charge of 20¢ for each 500 seedlings.

Orders of pine species must be in even thousands. Orders of species other than pine must be in even five hundreds or even thousands. By paying the delivery charge, the seedlings will be delivered to the county designated by the landowner and the area forester will notify him as to when the seedlings will arrive.

An order of 25,000, or more, or orders totaling 25,000, may be picked up at the nursery when indicated on the application. No delivery charge.

Although the nursery does not lift and ship seedlings until some time in December, the landowner should not place his application for seedlings until he has been advised by the nurseryman as to when the seedlings can be made.

For several years the Commission was not able to produce enough seedlings; however, by expansion of the nursery facilities, it was finally able to meet the demand for most of the pine species. The last two years the Commission had trouble selling all seedlings produced.

An extensive survey was made to determine demands for this year and the nurserymen planted, as nearly as the supply of seed would permit, a crop to meet these demands.

Orders of slash and loblolly pines will be filled on a "first come - first served" basis. Orders for other species will be filled in the full amount provided the supply lasts; otherwise, orders will be reduced on a percentage basis. It will be impossible to meet the demands for some of the hardwood species due to many factors, including shortage of seed.

A landowner who places his order late runs the risk of not receiving seedlings at all.

The altar of the church was decorated with white gladioli and pom-pom chrysanthemums. Professor Joseph Hemmersbach, organist, played the processional and recessional and a program of numbers during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins and seed pearls and finger-tip sleeves with rows of tiny buttons. The full skirt fashioned with three deep rows of lace in the back caught with three organza roses ended in a long train. The lace was reembroidered with sequins and seed pearls. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of lace embellished with seed pearls and sequins and carried a cascade of white feathered mums and English ivy entered with a yellow throat orchid.
